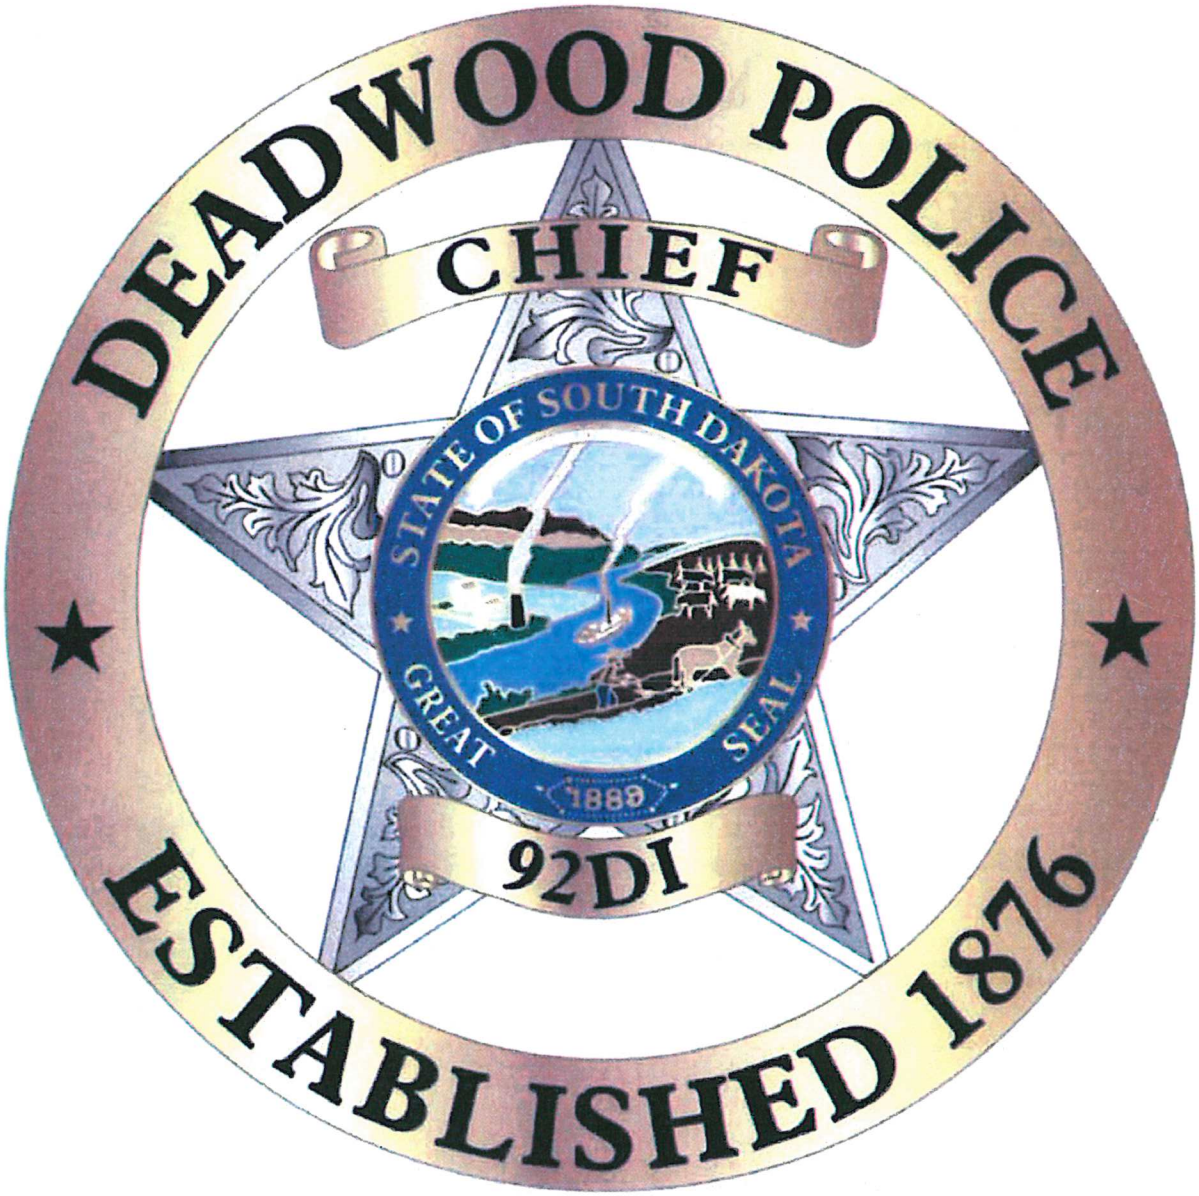
DEADWOOD POLICE DEPARTMENT
2011ANNUAL REPORT



A MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF

Kelly Fuller

I am pleased to submit the Deadwood Police Department's Annual Report for 2011. This report contains a wealth of information and commentary about the department's activities in the past year.

It's hard to believe that 2011 was my ninth year as the Chief of Police. It has been both an honor and a privilege to serve the citizens of Deadwood in this capacity. I guess the old saying is true, time does fly by when you're having fun. Our department has come a long way in those nine years and it has been a wonderful experience to work with so many dedicated officers and staff.

During 2011, the department responded to 4,726 calls for service, down 16% from 2010 when the department answered a record 5,625 calls for service. Even though calls for service were down slightly, we were faced with some very tough challenges. The synthetic drug epidemic has been dominating the headlines recently and our community was impacted heavily by this issue. An investigation spanning several months and involving several law enforcement agencies concluded with a large amount of synthetic marijuana and stimulants being seized from a local business.

There were many successes as well. The department participated in more community policing programs and activities as officers partnered with residents and civic groups, working as a positive resource in the community. Deadwood was host to even more successful special events, which brought in thousands of visitors to enjoy themselves in a safe and secure atmosphere.

In closing, I want to thank the citizens of Deadwood and our elected officials for providing us with the guidance and resources to accomplish our mission, and our employees for their commitment to provide police services that promote a safe and secure community.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OPERATIONS:

The Police Department responded to 4726 calls for services in 2011. This number represents an approximate 16% reduction in calls for service when compared to 2010 and is slightly below the six year average (See Figure 1).

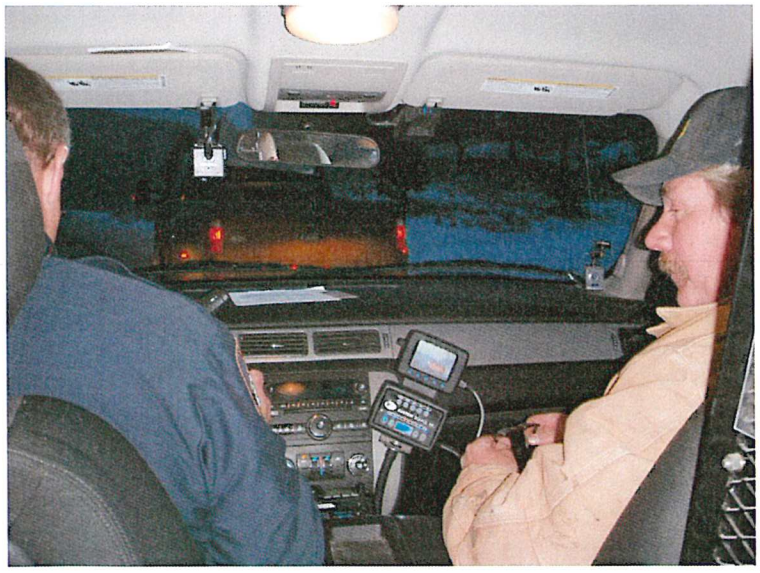
Traffic enforcement remains a vital aspect of the officers' day-to-day duties and responsibilities. Citations and warnings written for moving and equipment violations are NOT reflected in the calls for service or arrests documented by the police department.



Patrol officers issued 430 traffic citations and 920 written warnings for various traffic violations in 2011. The most common violation was SPEEDING with 194 citations and 235 warnings issued for this offense. Speeding violations rose dramatically over 2010 when 108 citations and 215 warnings were issued. The increase can be attributed to a speed limit change on Deadwood Hill (Hwy.85). This change resulted in the lowering of the speed limit from 55mph to 45 mph. in the area extending north from the intersection of US Hwy. 85 and US Hwy. 14A to the Deadwood city limits. After considering a request from the City of Deadwood, SDDOT approved the change to enhance traffic safety, due in part to the increased traffic turning into the Lodge at Deadwood. Despite concentrated enforcement in this area, speeding remains a problem and solutions to this problem must be discussed. For the second year in a row, seatbelt violations were ranked second with 40 citations issued.

As in past years, the largest public safety issue facing the community is alcohol and drug impaired driving. In 2006, the police department identified this problem as a major traffic safety issue in or community and developed proactive strategies to combat the issue and educated drivers about the perils of driving while impaired. These strategies include high visibility traffic enforcement during high risk nights and weekends, media announcements, public education (especially in younger drivers) and the promotion of public transportation alternatives such as the Deadwood Trolley system and our licensed taxi cab companies.

In 2011, the Deadwood Police Department made 105 DUI arrests, which accounted for 19% of total arrests made by the department. In 2006, DUI arrests numbered 252 and accounted for 39% of the department's arrests totals. Thanks to our police officers' commitment to traffic safety and continued utilization of established strategies and policies, we have seen a drastic reduction in these numbers over the past several years. Ultimately, these efforts have made our community safer by reducing the number of alcohol related traffic crashes/injuries and have probably saved lives.

Overall, officers made 565 arrests in 2011. This represents a 17% increase over 2010 when 471 arrests were made. In addition to DUI, the majority of violations consisted of simple assault (61), disorderly conduct (37), underage consumption (44), displaying another's license (44) and trespassing (37). Felony arrests included: aggravated assault (3), 2nd degree manslaughter (1), possession of controlled substance (4), distribution of controlled substance (2), accessory to robbery (1), aggravated assault-domestic (1), and possession of a controlled weapon (1).

Other important issues encountered during the past year included the abuse and illegal distribution of synthetic marijuana and synthetic stimulants. After months of extensive investigation by the Deadwood Police Department and other area law enforcement agencies, it was determined that a Main Street business was involved in the illegal distribution of synthetic marijuana and stimulants. It was further determined that the abuse of synthetic drugs was at epidemic levels. Users reported suffering from audio and visual hallucinations, tremors, irregular heartbeat, paranoia, chest pain and nausea. Area hospitals reported multiple emergency rooms visits of patients suffering from these symptoms. The patients indicated that these symptoms presented after ingesting synthetic drugs. In many cases, the products were purchased in Deadwood.

On January 19, 2012 a search warrant was executed at Pam's Purple Door. 17,100 individual packages of synthetic marijuana and synthetic stimulants were seized, along with several thousands of dollars in cash. The owners of the business were arrested and now face several criminal charges.

COMMUNITY POLICING

By Kip Mau – Community Policing Officer

2011 was another great year for the Deadwood Police Department's Community Policing Program. It is hard to believe that nine years ago, Chief Fuller took command of the department and transformed it into a top notch crime fighting organization using strong community policing initiatives. Those initiatives are paying dividends as the department enjoys a positive and solid working relationships with residents, business owners and the 2 million visitors per year that visit our historic town.

The Deadwood Police Department participates in several programs in town to be more visual and approachable. Officers conduct "Shop with a Cop" with one local family. This program is geared to assist a family in need during the holiday season so the family will have gifts to open on Christmas. Teen Court is another program that officers assist with. They also teach Law & You classes to area youth that have made poor choices.

Several officers are members of non-profit organizations that assist the community, especially the youth. Several officers are members of the Elks Lodge #508 and the Mason's Lodge. Chief Fuller and Officer Mau are members of the Deadwood-Lead Optimist Club. The Optimists conduct the backpack program that gives food to hungry school aged children during the weekend. The Optimists have donated several thousands of dollars to our areas youth for scholarships and different programs.

The department also assists with the Teen Court Senior Tree, which provides gifts to the elderly in our community. Chief Fuller is a supporter of the Mason's CHIP Program, which provide dental, photo, DNA and fingerprints of children to their parents in case of abduction. The Deadwood Police Department along with the Elks Lodge #508 provide Halloween bags and glow sticks to elementary school students as part of an annual Halloween safety program. Officer Mau is a member of the Lawrence County Child Protection Team, which works closely with area resources to assist at-risk youth. Lastly, the department is committed to assisting our residents. We do this by working closely with Neighborhood Works and attending Neighborhood Block Club meetings.

The department's philosophy includes the belief that officers should be visible and approachable. To accomplish this, Chief Fuller mandates that officers get out of their patrol cars and "walk the beat" during their shift. Officers conducted 514 foot patrols in the core district to maximize effectiveness.

The Deadwood Police Department believes by cooperating with the stakeholders of our community, we can solve any problem. A good example of this would be the safety issues that occurred in front of the elementary school before and after school when parents dropped off and picked up their children. Using proactive problem solving and communication skills between the department and the school administration, a safety plan was designed and executed. We can proudly say the school is safer and a much easier place to drop off and pick up children by using police officers that are approachable and visible. Officers conducted 380 safety patrols in 2011 in front of the school.

Chief Fuller also implemented a Bike Patrol nine years ago. Officer Mau spends 40 hours a week during the summer months riding the residential neighborhoods, Main Street, parking lots, parks and the Mickelson Trail giving directions to visitors and being visible.

There are several officers who volunteer their time to coach in different youth sports programs. Those programs include: minor and little league baseball, little league football, AAU wrestling, middle school wrestling and high school football. The department believes community involvement is very important because it gives the officers time to build trust and mutual respect with the youth.

The bulk of Officer Mau's duties lie within his position as the School Resource Officer (SRO) for the Lead-Deadwood School District. He teaches DARE to K-5 and 7th grade students. He also teaches 4th and 5th Amendments to the high school government class and a Choices presentation to middle school and high school health classes. Officer Mau works closely with the PTA to provide assistance with the Santa Shop at the elementary school. Santa Shop provides the opportunity for children to shop for their families at a reduced rate during the holiday season.

Officer Mau works closely with the Youth Coalition that provides services for area youth. Officer Mau responded to 323 calls for service within the school district in 2011 and was instrumental in conducting a district wide crisis drill in September of 2011. This drill provided training for not only the responding officers and agencies but the students, staff and the community as well.

The Deadwood Police Department looks forward to expanding its community policing philosophy and improving the activities and programs currently in use.

PARKING AND TRANSPORTATION/ORDINANCE ENFORCEMENT

According to the City of Deadwood Finance Office, Parking and Transportation revenue dropped approximately 6% in 2011 from $317,427.02 to $299,539.00. The decrease can be partially attributed to construction projects in the Miller Street Parking Lot and the History Center Parking Lot. The lots were closed while the Miller Street Parking Lot got a new overlay and striping and the History Center Lot went through a total makeover. The center island in the History Center Lot was removed in an effort to make the parking lot safer and more adaptable to special events, which are held at that location. This lot also received a new overlay, striping and re-alignment of the handicapped parking spots. Sidewalk and drainage issues were also addressed. Overall, the projects made these public lots safer, more convenient for our visitors to use and addressed deteriorating maintenance issues.

Ordinance Officers issued 4,790 parking tickets in 2011. It must be noted that this number is quite deceiving as approximately 58% of these tickets are issued as warnings for over parked at meter. Starting over at the beginning of each calendar year, the department issues one friendly warning to each vehicle not paying for a metered spot. Subsequent offenses are enforced by an escalating fine system. Most visitors to our community are never affected by actual parking tickets while the escalating fine system catches repeat offenders. Officers issued 2,770 friendly warnings in 2011 at a savings of $13,850.00 to visitors and employees (SEE DETAILED BREAKDOWN BELOW).

In addition to parking enforcement, Ordinances Officers are responsible for a number of additional duties and provide a plethora of important services to the community. Animal control is one of these services. Ordinance Officers investigate hundreds of animal related complaints annually. These complaints range from animal neglect cases, animal attacks and bites, lost and found animals, injured animals and road kill removal. The department also receives numerous complaints each year in relation to problem species, such as raccoons. In these cases, Ordinance Officers assist residents by trapping the problem animals and relocating them to less populated areas in the county. In 2011, officers investigated 230 animal related cases.

Other duties include enforcement of residential parking ordinances, other city ordinances such as snow removal, weeds etc.., and public nuisances (abandoned vehicles, junk etc...). In 2011, Ordinance officers investigated 93 city ordinance violations, 22 nuisance violations, 52 snow removal cases and 360 "other" parking complaints.

In conclusion, Ordinance Officers play an essential role in public safety efforts and providing our community with the very best in public services.
