Archaeological Investigation

Beginning in November, archaeologists from Quality Services, Inc. of Rapid City began conducting an archaeological investigation in Deadwood. The location is the Tin Lizzies parking lot located at 555 Main Street. Historically, this area was once Deadwood's Chinatown located within the Elizabethtown mining camp.

Prior to excavation, Historic Preservation staff and archaeologists reviewed historic photographs and Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps. Based on their findings, several one and two story wood structures once stood on this site. By the 1950s, the buildings were removed and replaced by a large pole barn used by Porter Lumber.

As the archaeologists excavate through the soils, several fill layers have been identified along with culturally significant objects. One of the more intriguing objects to date is a pressed brass Kepi hat insignia pin showing two crossed canons. Beneath the crossed canons is the letter "D". The pin represents an artillery battalion possibly attached with Fort Meade located in Sturgis, South Dakota. Once the archaeology is completed, work on the new hotel addition will begin this spring.

Deadwood Firewise Program

December 10-12, 2019, representatives from the City of Deadwood Public Works and Deadwood Volunteer Fire Department attended a two day forum in Boulder, Colorado focusing on wildfire planning. This forum hosted by Community Planning Assistance for Wildfire, or CPAW for short, helps communities across the nation develop planning solutions to better manage their wildland-urban interface (WUI). Wildland-urban interface, by definition, is a zone of transition between wildland (unoccupied land) and human occupation. Communities including Deadwood have been built within or adjacent to the WUI. As the City plans for new residential development within the WUI, these lands may be at risk of catastrophic wildfires.

In 2018, City officials began to address the WUI by applying for and receiving assistance from CPAW. Recommendations outlined in the CPAW report were then incorporated into the City of Deadwood's 2019 Comprehensive Plan. These recommendations will provide City planners and the citizens of Deadwood a frame work to manage and prepare for the next wildfire. In the ensuing months, the citywide newsletter will include a column on what homeowners can do to reduce the risk of home ignition resulting from wildfires.

Snow Removal

Snow Removal Update

In an effort to streamline snow removal activities, the Public Works Department will no longer post snow removal signs in your neighborhood indicating when vehicles must be removed from the roadway. The City will utilize Code Red to notify citizens when vehicles must be removed. Please take a few minutes and enroll in Code Red to be notified of snow removal efforts. Visit the link on the City of Deadwood's website to enroll. You may also stop by or call City hall for assistance with your enrollment.

Planning and Zoning

Public Meeting Addressing Vacation Rentals

The City of Deadwood would like to hold a public meeting on February 19, 2020 to discuss Deadwood City Ordinance 17.53 Transient Commercial use of Residential Property—Prohibited. This discussion will mainly revolve around Vacation Rentals (Airbnb, VRBO etc.). The purpose of this discussion is to gauge our citizen's views, input and concerns with the current City Ordinance. This meeting will take place on February 19, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. during the City of Deadwood's Planning and Zoning Commission Meeting. All are welcome.

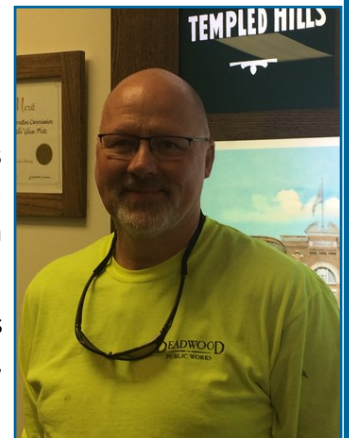

Public Works

Meet Your New Parks Superintendent

Congratulations to Randy Alder on his promotion to Parks Superintendent!

Randy has lived in Deadwood for 35 years. He has been married for 30 years, has two grown children and is the proud Grandpa to a 21 month old granddaughter. In his off time, Randy likes to hike the hills, ride his side by side and spend time with his family.

On May 6, 2019, Randy began working for the City of Deadwood as a Parks Technician. After working in the mining industry for the past 14 plus years, working for the City has been a nice change for him.

Chamber Corner
